WHAT YOU'D BE SPONSORING

A RACE LIKE NOTHING YOUR TOWN HAS SEEN

The Good Vibes Grand Prix is a charity race night built around one delightfully absurd idea: novelty "racers" line up, the gong sounds, and they buzz their way down a track while a packed room cheers, bids, and loses its collective mind. It's part auction, part spectacle, part block party, and 100% for a good cause.

Let's clear the air, because we know you're wondering.

Yes, the "racers" are novelty adult toys. No, we're not going to be weird about it. The whole night lives in the racing bit, the vintage duck, the checkered flags, the photo finish, and it plays as pure good-natured fun. Nothing crude, nothing on the artwork your customers couldn't see. It's cheeky, it's classy, and it's the most memorable fundraiser ticket in town.

Here's how the night runs:

1

THE AUCTION

Before each heat, racers are auctioned to the crowd starting at just $10. Bidding is half the fun.

2

THE RACE

Four racers per heat buzz down the track under their own power. Loud music, confetti, a photo finish.

3

THE FINALE

The night ends on our signature twist: a "slowest wins" showdown where dead last takes the crown.

Where your sponsorship goes: net proceeds from the night benefit Mom's House, Phoenixville, which provides free childcare so single parents can finish their education. Your logo helps a neighbor cross their own finish line.

THE FORMAT

A full card of races across the night, four racers per race, each running under its own name and its own power.

The Grand Prix race is the marquee: four local businesses each field a branded racing duck, customized in their company colors.

Checkered Flag & public races fill out the card. Sponsors and brave locals bring their own racer and let it rip.

The grand finale flips the script: in the last race of the night, slowest wins. Dead last takes the crown.

Full race-night production: an emcee driving the action, loud music, confetti, a gong at the start and finish, and a photo-finish worthy track.

This is not a spectator sport. Come ready to bid, cheer, and back a racer. The crowd is the show.

WHAT TO BRING TO THE LINE

RACER RULES

Every racer that isn't a Grand Prix duck follows the same core standard, so the racing stays fair and the night stays classy. Most of it is shared. The one thing that differs is packaging, because sponsors decorate their racer and the public doesn't.

GRAND PRIX

Nothing to bring. We provide your duck, you pick one of four and tell us how to brand it. Show up and cheer.

CHECKERED FLAG

You supply your own novelty racer, brand-new, and decorate it in your colors. Drop it at the Post at least 7 days before race day so it can be cleared and named.

PUBLIC

You supply your own novelty racer, brand-new and sealed. Drop it at the Post at least 7 days before race day so it can be cleared and named.

THE ONE STANDARD

- ✓ Self-powered. Runs on its own batteries. No cords, no wall power.
- ✓ Dropped off early. At the Post at least 7 days out, for inspection and clearing.
- ✓ Fits the lane. Within the track lane width (we'll confirm the measurement).
- ✓ Nothing unsafe. No blades, no heat, no combustion, nothing that sheds parts or liquid.
- ✓ Actually races. Powers on to a steady vibration and moves under its own power.

THE ONE DIFFERENCE: PACKAGING

CHECKERED FLAG SPONSORS

Brand-new, brought in its original packaging (unsealed is fine, you're decorating it) with a receipt. No receipt or no packaging means the racer can't run.

PUBLIC ENTRANTS

Brand-new and sealed, in its original unopened packaging, start to finish. No decorating. The seal stays intact through race day.

The Post is the licensed operator and has the final say on any racer's eligibility, and may pull anything unsafe or off-brand. All rules are subject to final confirmation before race day.

WHAT YOUR RACER IS

Checkered Flag ($100): you bring your own racer, brand-new, in its original packaging with a receipt, dropped off at least 7 days out so the Post can clear it. Simple rules apply (self-powered, fits the lane, nothing unsafe). We'll hand you the full checklist when you sign on.
